INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS.

No Letters For The Emperor Of China.

"No, there are no Xmas parcels addressed 'Emperor of China, Hongkong,'" said Mr. F. H. Holdman, Superintendent of Parcels at the General Post Office, to a query by a "China Mail" reporter who made inquiries this morning about the Christmas Mail which arrived here by the "Macedonia" yesterday.

With hands freely besmeared with grime, Mr. Holdman emerged from "under cover" of a mountain of parcels to take up a position behind the counter and reply to a barrage of questions by people eager to know if there was anything for them and at what time the parcels would be ready for distribution. During the intervals, the "Mail" reporter put his questions and Mr. Holdman's answers make very interesting reading.

Altogether there were 264 bags containing 1,599 parcels (of which 480 were insured) as compared with 1,684 (452) for the corresponding mail last year.

Asked if there were any parcels which had been weirdly addressed and might, therefore, not reach the addressee in time for the festive season, Mr. Holdman made the reply given above.

A feature of this year's mail is the abnormally high percentage of insured parcels and the number of really valuable packages insured for substantial sums. It can thus be presumed that some folks in Hongkong will be specially favoured by most expensive gifts from home.

The "Macedonia" arrived yesterday afternoon and the Post Office attended to the letters last night, the letter mail not being considered the Christmas batch as others will arrive with greetings. The papers were sorted this morning and the parcels staff has been, literally, up to their waists in parcels, since eight o'clock. It was expected that parcels would be ready for delivery by two o'clock this afternoon.

However, Mr. Holdman explained, this was only the dress rehearsal as another Christmas parcel mail is due to arrive on December 26 or 27 when the Post Office expect a still heavier mail. That by the "Macedonia" included posting up to November 6.

It appears that local hongs specialising in valuable articles, such as Messrs. Lane, Crawford's, Powell's and Falconer's, were among the biggest recipients of the "Macedonia" mail, the supposition being that it is preferable to ship by parcel post on account of the speed. The Netherlands Trading Society had over 70 parcels.

BANDIT THREAT.

$2,000, ASKED FROM THE A.P.C.

Curious Letter.

BONES TO BE GROUND TO DUST!

A threat has been made to the Asiatic Petroleum Co.'s Samshui branch that unless $2,000, cash, is paid over to-morrow, the establishment there will be burnt down.

When a "Mail" reporter called at the head office he was informed by Mr. O. W. Darch, assistant general manager, that such a request had been made, probably by bandits in the locality, but the A. P. C. were taking the threats as a matter of course.

Similar missives had been received at Samshui, Kongmoon and Canton before. When Mr. Darch was at Canton, he received over forty of them and nothing ever

STOKER IN IRONS.

HIGH SEAS FRACAS.

CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Tragedy Aboard Japanese Steamer.

Words having led, it is said, to blows, one of the crew of an incoming ship is reported to have been killed by stab from a knife. His body has been buried at sea.

A Japanese coal-passer of the Nanyo Yusen Kaisha s.s. "Cheribon Maru," which reached Hongkong this morning, was the victim and the alleged murderer is another of the crew, a stoker.

Captain N. Suzuki, when seen by a "China Mail" reporter, was inclined to be reticent.

As far as he knew, the coal-passer and stoker are alleged to have quarrelled last Saturday about a job in the engine room. After the deceased had gone to his room, the stoker is accused of having gone to the door, brandishing an ugly knife and invited his colleague to come out and fight if he still wanted to.

Unfortunately, the services of an oiler who had acted successfully as peacemaker down below, were not available and deceased is said to have received two wounds, one below his left eye and the other in the body.

Deceased collapsed and expired two hours later in spite of constant attention. The stoker was put in irons.

It was at first decided to bring the body back for investigation and burial but three days later it had to be buried at sea.

The "Cheribon Maru" calls regularly at Hongkong from Java and Japan. On this trip she left Sourabaya on November 25 and Balikpapan on December 2. The attack was made between the last port and Hongkong.

FATAL CONFLICT BETWEEN MYSTIC ORDERS.

Twelve men were wounded, nine by gunshot, in open warfare in Ohio between Ku Klux Klansmen and Knights of the Flaming Circle. The rioting ended only when State troops were rushed to the scene. The rioting started during a parade of the hooded K.K.K., through the streets. This photograph shows members of the Klan being sworn in as police of their own forces in the presence of their King Kleagle.

(Reuter's Service.)

LONDON, December 11.

RABIES "SCARE."

Still No Need For Anxiety.

THREE CASES ONLY.

HOW THE PUBLIC IS SAFEGUARDED.

The biting of two more people by a dog now under observation has led to a certain amount of uneasiness in the minds of many owners of dogs and others who, although only perhaps slightly bitten, have thought it advisable to take precautions and undergo treatment, even though the dog may have every appearance of being in normal health.

A "China Mail" representative who made enquiries at the Colonial Secretary's and Veterinary Surgeon's offices this morning as to whether in view of the anxiety of the public (as evidenced by the increased numbers in the Colony taking the Pasteur treatment), the Government were taking any special measures for safeguarding the public, gathered that it is the Government's opinion that a muzzling order would inflict suffering which is unnecessary and that they considered the restriction of movement imposed were the best measures of precaution.

Three Cases Only.

The dog which was responsible for the scare at Fanling, reported at the beginning of the week, has not at present given any indication of being a rabies "case" and the only cases reported thus remain as those of Mr. L. G. Scott's dog and the two at Baymount Terrace.

happened. Accordingly the A. P. C. were not particularly alarmed over the matter.

In this case the threat also hints that unless the sum is forthcoming, "the bones of the employees will be ground to dust."

The "China Mail" also learned that H.M.S. "Moth" had proceeded to Samshui to stand-by. Mr. Darch explained that whenever such letters were received a report was made to the Consulate. The A. P. C. at Hongkong had not communicated with the Naval authorities.

SINGAPORE BASE.

WHAT WILL COLONIES CONTRIBUTE?

STATEMENT IN COMMONS.

(Reuter's Service.)

LONDON, December 11.

In the House of Commons to-day, Sir Newton Moore asked what amount had been expended on the plans for enlarging the Singapore Base; what amount was necessary to complete the scheme and whether it was contemplated that Australia and New Zealand would contribute.

Mr. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, replied that £90,500 had already been expended. The estimate amounted to £11,000,000 spread over nine years. The First Lord recalled that Australia and New Zealand had expressed willingness to contribute before the plans were suspended. While their contributions would still be welcome, it would be necessary for their Governments to review the matter in light of their present financial commitments on naval defence. It would be premature to forecast their decision.

Australian Action.

MELBOURNE, December 11.
The Rt. Hon. S. M. Bruce, Prime Minister of the Commonwealth of Australia, has issued a statement with regard to the Singapore scheme.

In consequence of the recent expenditure on defence schemes, he says Parliament must first consider Australia's contribution in connection with the Singapore base.

PROMINENT ENGINEER ENDORSSES ZAM-BUK

Cures Bad Attacks Of Skin Disease,
Heals Cuts, Wounds, etc.

MR. HENRY C. DAVIS, a widely-travelling railway engineer, now of South 17th St., Kansas City, U.S.A., writes to report that he has found nothing in any corner of the globe that compares with Zam-Buk for healing. He says:

"I would like people everywhere to know just how valuable Zam-Buk is. As a first-aid I have used the balm in innumerable instances for cuts, wounds, bruises and similar injuries sustained in my engineering work."

"I also had occasion to try its power upon a rather common trouble in this country—skin poisoning by poisonous ivy.
This causes disfiguring rashes on the hands or other parts of the body which have been in contact with the poisonous plant.
I found in Zam-Buk a speedy cure. It cooled the affected surfaces and appeared to draw the poison right out."

"Another time, whilst travelling, I suffered from a violent outbreak of eczema contracted through careless use of a public towel. For this I had had medical advice and tried, in addition, many special eczema remedies, but without finding the hoped-for relief. At last I managed to secure a further supply of Zam-Buk, and as always, this balm soon gave positive results. It took away all pain and burning irritation and quickly purified and healed the deep troublesome sores."

"Not only for chronic sores, eczema, rashes, poisoned wounds, etc., but for treatment of painful cuts, burns, scalds and bruises, and other injuries which children often receive whilst at play, Zam-Buk is the most valuable remedy to keep always close at hand. Years of experience have convinced me that Zam-Buk's name, soothing, healing and antiseptic qualities can never be made too widely known."

"THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD."

To-night Hongkong's Philharmonic Society gives its first performance of "The Yeomen of the Guard." Unless advance reports are singularly misleading the event will be a very notable one indeed, the standard reached being exceptionally high, it is said, especially for amateur performers. Besides this "The Yeomen of the Guard" is a light opera that never fails to charm. The public appetite, as one critic noted so long ago as 1887, may just possibly become satiated with "surplusage of dainties," such as the earlier Gilbert and Sullivan operas, and "a real comic opera dealing with neither topay-turveydom nor fairies, but a genuine dramatic story, written with Mr. W. S. Gilbert's masterly power, and set to music as Sir Arthur Sullivan can alone compose," must be an abiding delight even greater than "The Mikado" itself. This opinion was expressed actually before "The Yeomen of the Guard" had been produced. Mr. S. J. Adair Fitz-Gerald, in his book "The Story of the Savoy Opera," tells how "The Yeomen of the Guard" came into being. Gilbert was waiting for a train, one day at Uxbridge Railway Station, when his eye was arrested by the picture of a Beefsteak in the large display advertisement of the Tower Furnishing Company. This at once gave him the first idea of the plot and scene of "The Yeomen of the Guard." The opera met with instant success, far exceeding the highest hopes of its author and composer. Especially appreciated was the duet between Jack Point and Elsie Maynard, "I have a Song to Sing O." Mr. Adair Fitz-Gerald relates that Gilbert wrote the words after the model of "The House that Jack Built." The opening stanza, "I have a Song to Sing O!" comprises seven lines and to each succeeding verse two lines are added until the last verse is extended to thirteen lines. Mr. Adair Fitz-Gerald says that it is known Sullivan took over two weeks before he was satisfied with the eventual melody and its crescendo movement. "It was stated on good authority that it kept Sullivan awake o' nights and when a friend called and found him in a semi-demented state, he moaned out in melancholy tone, 'My dear fellow, I have a song to set O, and I don't know how the dickens I am going to do it.' Once in conversation Sullivan said, 'I spent a fortnight over that blessed jingle and must have set and reset it a dozen times before I was satisfied. Gilbert told me he got the idea from a nautical ballad he had heard in his yacht, beginning "I have a Song to Sing O," and as the song progressed, it increased in length, just as the "Merryman" did. I was glad to assure you when I completed it to my satisfaction." It would have been ungrateful of the public not to have liked it; but happily it went alright, being quaintly sung, and I was repaid for all my trouble." That the public could not have been anything but grateful for this most charming duet, everyone who has ever heard it must agree. But "I have a Song to Sing O" is only one of the many gems in "The Yeomen of the Guard," and tempted as we are to go on quoting extracts from Mr. Adair Fitz-Gerald's book, we must bow to the decrees of king Space, adding only that the Philharmonic Society deserves the highest praise for giving the Colony an opportunity of enjoying Gilbert and Sullivan's "magnificent masterpiece."

"General Post."
Times without number attention has been called in the Press to the tendency in the Civil Service to expect Cadets to fill posts for which they have had no proper training. The appeal of a Chinese who was sentenced in Singapore to eighteen months' rigorous imprisonment for illegal possession of a revolver and ammunition called forth sharp criticism from Sir Walter Shaw, the Chief Justice, which serves to emphasise the present unsatisfactory procedure which regulates the Civil Service in the Straits and Hongkong. The Chief Justice severely censured the practice of "police magistrates consulting counsel for the prosecution as to the sentence to be imposed on accused persons, which had been followed in a number of cases recently." The conviction was set aside and a retrial ordered. It is fair to presume that the censure of the Chief Justice was fully deserved; it is also fair to presume that the practice complained of was chiefly due to the police magistrates in question not being qualified for the posts they were appointed to fill—chiefly through lack of training. The Singapore incident, as we have said, serves to emphasise the unsatisfactory procedure which regulates the Civil Service. It is suggested by a writer in the "Pinang Gazette" that Government should make it its duty to find efficient men for the various departments and, when they show talent and ability for the branch of work they undertake, to keep them in that department, in so far as the circumstances governing the administration will allow. Old hands in the East will recall the alleged case of the cadet who had passed in Chinese being appointed Superintendent of Tamil immigrants on his return to the Straits from Hongkong. Though this appointment—if it was authentic—could not have been expected to benefit any one, it was not likely to lead to a miscarriage of justice. In the case of appointments to the Bench, however, the game of "general post" should not be allowed.

The Red Ranters.

"Much indignation has been aroused in Chinese official quarters and public circles in Peking owing to reports of a proposed joint action by the Powers. The demand that the Chinese Government give assurances that it will abide by the treaties is regarded as an attempt to interfere with the internal crisis of this (China) country and undermine all efforts to create a strong central power." The foregoing is a message despatched by the Rosta News Agency in Peking on November 19 and published in the "Canton Gazette" under the caption "Fishing in China's Troubled Waters." The Rosta News Agency, of course, is a Bolshevik propaganda agency with headquarters in Moscow. The Peking branch has been in existence since 1919. When the first Red propagandist arrived in Peking, he established himself in a house in the Chinese quarter of the city, but the Police in those days were more awake to the danger of Bolshevism and the press bureau was closed down. By some extraordinary means, however, the red ranters, who sowed the first seeds of Bolshevism in Peking, obtained the sympathetic ear of the doyen of the Corps Diplomatique and the agency was allowed to open an office within the precincts of the Legation Quarter. For some weeks the Rosta Agency confined itself to furnishing the English language newspapers with commercial information which at times was of genuine interest to merchants. Later a propaganda campaign was launched against Japan in the English sheets issued by the Rosta Agency. As time passed, a number of the Chinese newspapers in the capital gave space to Rosta propaganda, which gradually developed into an insidious campaign against all the Treaty Powers—America and Great Britain coming in for especially severe treatment as the "hate" towards Japan temporarily died down when there appeared some likelihood of Japan falling, as had China, an easy prey to Bolshevik wiles. Now, however, Japan, equally with the other Protocol Powers, has incurred the wrath of the red ranters and is accused of "being at the back of all the Tientsin combinations and apparently planning to join this common action to complicate the situation in China." Of course, the Rosta News Agency itself does not make this statement. It is careful to place the words in the mouth of a "well-informed Chinese public leader." Needless to say the name of this mysterious personage is not given. It is significant, however, that the treaties between China and the Powers are described as "having outlived their age" and having "no more vitality unless they be supported by extraordinary measures."

SEAMEN'S MISSION.

LOCAL BRANCH IN NEED OF FUNDS.

The Committee of the above Mission to Seamen are most anxious to pay off the deficit on the year's working, largely caused by the present depressed state of shipping, and a special appeal for funds is now being made in the hope of raising $8,000. Funds from this appeal are already coming in quite well from the staffs of numerous firms but it is extremely difficult to reach all individuals who may be willing to assist.
Commodore Grace, who is a member of the Committee and takes a very keen interest in the work, is leaving to-morrow and it was at his special wish that this appeal is being launched.
Anyone wishing to contribute should send donations to Mr. T. G. Weall, Hon. Treasurer, Mission to Seamen, c/o Messrs. Dodwell & Co.

$20,000 FIRE.

WINE AND SPIRIT SHOP GUTTED.

BRIGADE'S PROMPT WORK.

The Central Fire Brigade received a call at 4.35 this morning, and proceeded to No. 2, Ko Shing Street, a three-storied building. The Kennedy Town and Wanchai units were also ordered to attend and the full fire-fighting equipment was on the spot shortly after the alarm.
The fire, which had its origin in a cockloft on the ground floor occupied by the Hang Lam Chong firm of wine and spirit merchants, had already gained a good hold of the ground floor and also two of the upper floors when the engines arrived. Two hydrants and a pump were brought into action immediately, and in the course of an hour the fire was under control. But for the prompt arrival of the brigade there is no doubt that the third floor would also have been involved and caused the gutting of the whole building. The Wanchai unit returned at 5.47 a.m., and the Central and Kennedy Town equipments left for their stations at 6.15 a.m.
No loss of life is reported but the damage caused by fire and water is estimated at $20,000. It is understood that the property is insured for $20,000.

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

BUS CONDUCTOR FINED TWO DOLLARS.

The case in which a conductor of the Kowloon Motor Bus Company stands charged with using abusive language to Mr. F. Q. Gourdin, a passenger on the bus, when requested to refrain from blowing his whistle in an unnecessary manner, was continued at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning before Mr. E. W. Hamilton.

At the previous hearing, the case was adjourned to enable the complainant to subpoena an inspector of the Bus Company, who was alleged to have heard what was going on. The inspector was present to-day, and his evidence, as rendered by the Court interpreter, was that the defendant did not swear at the complainant, although he went to the back of the bus and grumbled a bit. Asked if he had any questions to put to witness, Mr. Gourdin complained to the Magistrate that the interpretation of the inspector's evidence had not been correctly rendered and specified two instances. At this stage an incident occurred which resulted in the interpreter being sent out of Court and another put in his place.

The defendant, who pleaded not guilty, claimed that to keep the driver well posted with his signals and thus prevent accidents it was necessary for him to give loud blasts on his whistle, and that the complainant had no right to remonstrate with him.

The case was brought to a close by defendant being fined $2.

CARELESS DRIVER.

CHINESE FINED $50 AT KOWLOON.

A young Chinese was charged at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with driving a motor truck in a negligent manner, and also with driving in Salisbury Road, which is prohibited under his licence.

Mr. S. L. Hidden, giving evidence, said that he was proceeding along Salisbury Road in a ricksha at 9 p.m. on November 28 when the defendant came up from behind driving a truck and sounded his horn. The ricksha moved to the left side of the road and the defendant also swerved to the left and ran into his ricksha, fortunately only damaging the vehicle, and bumping into another ricksha in which his wife was travelling. Witness stated that the incident happened at the junction of Salisbury Road and Nathan Road.

The Magistrate, in fining the defendant $50, warned him of the serious consequences which would result in learning to drive in a careless manner.

SETTLED.

EUROPEANS COME TO TERMS IN DISPUTE.

Mr. Kenneth George Blair and Mr. Cecil H. Perry both appeared in court this morning with their solicitors, prepared to go on with the case which Mr. Justice H. H. J. Gompertz had adjourned for a settlement to be arrived at, if at all possible, outside the court.

Mr. Blair's claim was that Mr. Perry had leased him a go-down together with the rooms he took at Mr. Perry's house at 13C, Macdonnell Road and that he had no right to take possession of it without Mr. Perry's permission.

Mr. Perry's claim was that the go-down had not been included in the tenancy agreement.

Mr. H. C. Macnamara was for Mr. Blair and Mr. R. E. A. Webster for Mr. Perry.

His Lordship asked the solicitors when they appeared in court this morning what had been the obstacle to a settlement on the terms indicated when the court rose at the previous hearing.

Mr. Macnamara and Mr. Webster said that the parties simply could not agree.

His Lordship: I understand that Mr. Perry is willing to allow Mr. Blair the use of a portion of the go-down on condition that he assumes the risk for his property and that no washing or amah work should be done there. The suggestion was that there should be a partition of some kind.

Mr. Macnamara: My client thinks this impracticable. There is only one door.

His Lordship: A curtain or even a white paint line would do.

Mr. Webster: We are prepared to share and share alike.

His Lordship: What is the objection to washing and ironing there?

Mr. Webster: There is a lot of woodwork belonging to my client, amahs always use a charcoal fire for their irons. My client is afraid of fire.

After further consultation between the solicitors and their clients it was announced that a settlement on mutual terms had been reached.

BOXING.

CARTLIDGE AND SMITH BOUT.

FIXED FOR DEC. 23RD.

[By Argus.]

Mr. J. Brooks, Manager of the Hongkong Boxing Association, telephoned last night to inform the "China Mail" that the next tournament under the auspices of the Hongkong Boxing Association will take place in the Town Hall on the night of December 23. The tournament had been arranged for Christmas Eve and has been put forward a day out of deference to the Association's supporters.

The chief fight will be between Cartledge and Smith—a return match for the Light-weight championship of the Colony and the Association's Belt. The terms are similar to those arranged for the first meeting last month.

Mr. A. Murdoch will again officiate as referee.

Excuses were made by Smith's supporters last time that he was handicapped by insufficient training. There does not appear sufficient grounds for the statement in view of announcements made before the last fight. Be that as it may, all the public want is a "go" for their money and a little open fighting would not come amiss.

Mr. J. M. Watson, who has taken over the Secretary's duties during the absence of Mr. T. G. Bennett, said this morning that arrangements were being made to stage some enterprising minor scraps to pad out the programme.

The public can obtain ringside seats for $5 each instead of $10, which was the charge on last occasion.

KEEN FOR SCRAP.

LAST FIGHT BEFORE WINTER HOLIDAY.

EAST RIVER RUMOUR.

Some of the more enterprising of the lesser generals on General Chan Kwong-ming's side are itching to launch another offensive in the East River region before settling down for the winter, but difference of opinion among the major leaders in the anti-Sun camp has, according to latest reports from Canton, protracted the period of stalemate.

WATCHING THE CAT.

Our Canton correspondent writes to say that Chan is not at all keen to start until he is assured of Lin Fu's disposition. Lin has been on his side for some years and has been in the thick of the fighting against the present Canton regime but it is surmised that he is also marking time because he is not satisfied with what has been promised him if an advance be successful.

News has also come down from Canton about open disagreement between troops alleged to belong to General Fan Shek-sang, the "big" Yunnanese commander and others in Lau Yuk-san's contingent. The Yunnanese are accused of having taken high-handed action and feeling runs high.

A STOLEN BLANKET.

FINDING'S KEEPING," SAID THE COOLIE.

"JAIL," SAYS MAGISTRATE.

Au Fong, a scavenging coolie at Victoria Barracks, was charged before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Central Magistracy this morning with theft of a lance-corporal's blanket from the ground floor of the barracks.

Private Leonard Jones, of the East Surreys Regiment, giving evidence, stated that he caught the defendant last night near the door of the room as he was walking away with the blanket under his arm.

The defendant, after a long story, admitted having found the blanket lying on the ground near the stairs. Having no blanket of his own, and the nights being very cold, he took the blanket with the intention of taking it home.

Sentence of six weeks' hard labour was imposed.

Tickling Throat.

Did you ever have that nerve-racking experience caused by a bit of mucus or phlegm that stubbornly refuses to be dislodged, but tickles and tickles until it sometimes almost strangles? Just a few sips of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, swallowed very slowly and allowed to slide down the throat, will stop that tickle and at once give you immense relief. Try it that way too for hoarseness, bronchitis and other coughs. For sale everywhere.

CHINA'S STUDENTS.

HONGKONG PROFESSOR'S APPEAL.

TOO MERCENARY?

An appeal to the Chinese student to seek after knowledge more for its own sake and not to think so much of it as a question of "S. A. D." is contained in "Caduceus," the journal of the Hongkong University Medical Society, a number of which has reached the "China Mail." The article is by Prof. J. L. Shell-shear of the University.

The writer deals mainly with anatomy in which he is particularly interested. He thinks that progress in this field can be speeded up if there was some working plan to co-ordinate the work of the Hongkong University with other schools in China working on the same lines.

Dealing generally with the hindrances to the attainment of scientific knowledge Prof. Shell-shear writes:—

"In the past poverty has not prevented important discoveries in science, at the same time the progress of knowledge has been seriously hampered by lack of co-ordination between scientific workers and business establishments which have exploited the findings of science. Business has for too long appeared to science as a hard taskmaster waiting at the door to receive the findings, converting them into this world's goods and then forgetting the originators."

"If I may say so, the outstanding characteristic of the Chinese student as I have seen him is that he is so keen about his future business prospects that there is no room for thought about the future of his University. He can see nothing in research because there is no money in it. It is not unusual in a British University to find about two per cent. of students with a desire to attain knowledge for its own sake. It is from these students that the scientific staffs of universities are drawn. Is China going to continue to draw upon the west for her teachers in medicine? The problem awaits your solution; there only remains to be found an unselfishness in this University among its students and work will proceed at a rapidly increasing speed."

CHINA AND EGYPT.

Clues which should help in the past anthropological history of China are given by Prof. Shell-shear in another part of the article and close parallels pointed out in Egyptian and Chinese customs, although he does not think they are sufficient to build up theories of common origin.

"I have noticed that there is painted on the back of many of the graves in the Hongkong district," he writes, "the winged solar disc. Sayce tells us that when Amenophis III. entered into matrimonial alliance with the king of Nubia the marriage had strange consequences, for Egypt. The new queen brought with her not only a foreign name but a foreign faith as well; she refused to worship Amon of Thebes and the other gods of Egypt, and clung to the religion of her fathers whose supreme object of adoration was the solar disc. The Hittite monuments bear witness to the prevalence of this worship in Northern Syria. The winged solar disc appears above the figure of a king which has been brought from Birjick on the Euphrates to the British museum; and even at Boghaz Koi, far away in Northern Asia Minor, the winged solar disc has been carved by Hittite sculptors upon the rock."

Similarities in methods of burial in Egypt to those of China are also pointed out by Prof. Shell-shear.

"In America and in the Philippines one finds that the bodies were interred in a contracted position in the same way as they were in the near East. Always associated with death was the search after life giving substances and emblems. Elliot Smith has written very extensively on the migrations of culture and has drawn attention to these life giving principles. The colour red has been associated with life giving properties, undoubtedly because the ancients observed that on the loss of the red colour of the blood the animal died. It was hoped that in some way this life principle might reanimate the body if the body were covered with red ochre."

"In China, the colour red is always associated with life giving property and we see in Dr. Groot's book an example of the use of blood which takes us back to the times of Cro-Magnon man. He says p. 216. The ink used for the dotting must be red, because red is the colour of fire and light and consequently—particularly identified by Chinese philosophy with the yang or the chief principle of life. And when the soul has been so much weakened by

FOOTBALL.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

TO-MORROW'S GAMES.

[By "Dutchie."]

The following is the League programme for to-morrow:—

FIRST DIVISION.

Club v. Kowloon, Club Ground. Surreys v. Police, Kowloon Ground.

China "A" v. "Tamar." Sookumpoo Ground. Kick-off at 4 p.m. sharp.

SECOND DIVISION.

China "A" v. Club, Club Ground. Recreio "A" v. China "B," Kowloon Ground.

St. Joseph's "A" v. Sacred Heart, St. Joseph's Ground. Recreio "B" v. St. Joseph's "B," Navy "A" Ground.

Drums v. Kowloon, Sookumpoo Ground. Surreys v. University, Chinese Ground. Kick-off at 2.30 p.m. sharp.

The Club will be anxious to reverse their defeat at the hands of Kowloon and having the advantage of ground should just get home. Kowloon will be strengthened by the inclusion of Mr. W. E. Crocker (who has recently returned to the Colony) as goalkeeper.

The Surreys travel to Kowloon to meet the Police and they are expected to win, but I don't think they will find it a very easy thing.

The game between China "A" and H.M.S. "Tamar" has been transferred to Sookumpoo ground and a good crowd will probably see the Chinese continue their victorious career.

The Second Division game between China "A" and the Club will probably end in a draw. Recreio "A" should beat their opponents as also should the College "A."

The game between Recreio "B" and St. Joseph's "B" will probably decide who are to be the "wooden spoonists" and a draw is a likely result, although on paper Recreio are certainly the stronger.

Drums will have a hard game against Kowloon and unless they improve on their showing of last week they will lose.

The University will be out after a fortnight's rest, but on form the Surreys are expected to win.

To proceed with possible starters for the Interport front line. For the outside position we have a very poor number of players to select from, for with the exception of Charlesworth of the Surreys and Johnson of "Tamar," there is no one worth mentioning. Clemo of Kowloon is off his form whilst Pile of the Club will require a lot more experience before he will be eligible for Interport honours. Unless some new star appears in the meantime the choice seems to be between the first two named, and if Johnson can show form in trials, I think Charlesworth will lose his place.

For inside right we have the pick of Eaton, Forsyth and Suen Kam-shun, a lot could be said here. On form the last named is undoubtedly the best of the three but the other two have the advantage of weight, a very great factor against a bustling team like Shanghai. Forsyth is off his form and cannot receive consideration. Eaton should be the ultimate choice.

Lack of space prevents me finishing the team but I will do so next week, when I also hope to be able to publish the names of the players in the England v. Scotland game in the "Sunday Herald" Cup Competition. This game will take place on Boxing Day on the Club Ground.

A long postponement of the burial that a cock is required in the procession to strengthen it, some blood of this bird is taken to moisten the ink, because it contains the vital energy of the very being, which is a principal depository of the energy of the yang and the sun, in short, of the life of nature."

"In the interesting journal in which the article appears from which the above extracts have been given there are many more such by the University professors on subjects of particular interest to medical men."

CHILDREN'S COLDS.

Avoid Serious Results by Using Baby's Own Tablets.

When a child shows the first symptoms of a cold, such as sneezing, redness of the eyes, clogged or running nose, prompt measures for relief may avert serious results. Mothers should always have on hand ready for use at such times Baby's Own Tablets, which act quickly, contain no opiates or narcotics, are tasteless and harmless. Mrs. Joseph Ouliffe, of No. 61 Cabot Street, Holyoke, Mass., says:—

"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children, and find them a very satisfactory medicine. When my little boy had a cold I gave him the Tablets at night and he was well the next day. I give them to the children for colds and they are always benefited. They are the Tablets like as any. I think Baby's Own Tablets are much easier to give a child than liquid medicine. I recommend them to all mothers who have small children."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by chemists everywhere, or post free, 60 cents the box, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Biango Road, Shanghai.

According to a police report, Edward Harris, an unemployed seaman staying at the Sailors Home, was found wandering about in the streets this morning. He was sent to the Government Civil Hospital.

Armed robbers entered No. 70, Laichikok Road, yesterday forenoon, three of the men said to be armed with revolvers and one carrying a dagger. They proceeded to deal with the inmates in the usual way, and made their escape after securing money and jewellery to the value of $157. A report was made to the police, but no arrests have been made so far.

A most effective if repulsive method of collecting debts has come to light in Japan. A man in a suburb of Tokyo owed a sum of ¥100 which he declined to repay, whereupon his creditor sent two lepers to his house to secure payment. After they had been in the dwelling for a few minutes the ¥100 was repaid.

The reports circulated in Tokyo last week that the Government is considering deporting some 6,000 Chinese labourers, were declared to be without foundation by officials in the Government. It was said that no such plan has been brought up in the Cabinet or in any part of the Government. Reports had been that, because of the unemployment situation among labourers in Japan, the Chinese labourers were to be deported in order that Japanese could get the jobs they left.

In the Assembly, replying to a Labour member, the Premier said he was not disposed at present to remove the Shipping Bureau. The questioner retorted that the fight would continue, says a Sydney message.

Frank Bennett, American resident of Angeles, Pampanga, who killed Joseph R. Maly several months ago, was sentenced by the Supreme Court of the Philippines to six years and one day imprisonment. Bennett told the Court that he killed his victim while acting in self-defence.

W. Wallace, an unrecognized foreigner, who was charged before the Mixed Court at Shanghai, on February 2, with obtaining money under false pretences, and expelled from the Settlement, made application through a representative in the Court last week to be allowed to return for ten days to settle up some accounts which were due him from Chinese. The application was refused.

An Associated Press despatch from Washington says that some official circles are uneasy lest Mr. Churchill's statement in the House of Commons, in regard to Inter-Allied debts, may delay the settlement with France. Some officials interpret Mr. Churchill's statement as heralding another attempt to induce the United States to participate in an Inter-Allied Debt Conference.

The cable between Stonecutters Island and Hongkong was broken—it is believed by a Chinese-owned ship—on Wednesday evening, and since then telegraphic communication with the military on Stonecutters has been impossible. The work of repairing the cable started today. The telegraph cable at North Point is also reported to be out of action, as the result of its having been fouled by the anchor of a buoy.

Chinese in Shanghai are protesting against what they term an encroachment on Chinese territory by the French Municipal Council, states the Chinese press. It is alleged that the French authorities are attempting to extend their concession by building roads in Chinese territory in the Sincaw district. The Civil Governor of Kiangsu has instructed Mr. Wen Shih-tsen, the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, to take the matter up with the French authorities, if true.

Tokyo is to have women candidates for her omnibuses, and with reference to a recent examination held to select suitable women, the "Japan Times" says:—Of the 85 girls who sent in their applications, none was pretty, according to the officials of the electric bureau. Fifty-nine girls could not take the examination through inability to write legibly. Of the 26 who were put through physical examinations and mental tests, 23 passed. The majority of the girls were from farming districts, few Tokyo girls applying for positions.

"Experience tells" is the theory of both Tom Forman, director of "The Girl Who Came Back," and Kenneth Harlan, playing a leading role in this Al Lichtman attraction, now showing at the World Theatre. Both of the Schulberg aids had had prison experience before the filming of this picture, which involves several big penitentiary scenes. Mr. Forman had directed several prison pictures, while Mr. Harlan just had completed work in "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," in which he appears as a convict for one phase of the production.

The customs and police authorities of Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki, and other open ports are reported in a great Japan paper to be busy on a smuggling case involving gold bullion sent from Japan to China which was recently revealed. Many Chinese merchants in those ports have been examined. It is alleged that a Kwandaigo money exchange shop in Shanghai has smuggled gold bullion, estimated at over ¥1,000,000 monthly, from Japan since the yen dropped. The gold was sent to Shanghai from Japanese ports twice a month, ¥50,000 at a time. It has not yet been discovered what ship carried it.

ADVENT ADDRESS.

"IF CHRIST CAME TO HONGKONG."

A SERMON.

Preaching at the Wesleyan Methodist Church last Sunday, the Rev. C. Clouston Porri, H.C.F., took as his text:—

"His own people gave Him no welcome." John. 2. 11.

Many years ago W. T. Stead wrote a book with the arresting title, "If Christ came to Chicago," since when preachers, poets and novelists have been asking and answering the same question about countries other than America and towns other than Chicago.

If Christ came to Hongkong, what would happen? We need not be a prophet, nor even a journalist, novelist or poet to know that it would be the unexpected. Was it not Disraeli who said, "The unexpected always happens."

If Christ came to Bethlehem, we can always carry our thoughts back to a time when His Coming was awaited and when Bethlehem would be honoured by His appearance.

A nation looked forward to His Advent but hearts were heavy and eyes were weary by reason of the long night that preceded the Messianic dawn. He is coming! the watchman had cried, messengers had announced His approach, and prophet heralds had prepared His way. The good tidings silenced all questions, the nation asked the time and manner of His Coming. "If Christ came," belongs to a later age; the Jews inquired, when Christ comes; what will happen?

By the bitterness of their disappointment, by the absence of any welcome, and by the fierceness of their rejection of the Prophet of Galilee, we know that the manner of His Coming was misunderstood. "His own people gave Him no welcome."

When Jesus came to Bethlehem—the unexpected happened.

We are prepared for wonder and mystery in the Gospel narratives of the birth we celebrate on Christmas Day. What was unanticipated by the Jews, and what to us in a later day surprises the wonder, is that element of the unexpected which runs through the Christmas story and makes it unique.

You meet with the unexpected immediately you open and re-read the birth-stories.

If you begin with the earliest Gospel, St. Mark surprises you by his omission. The story of the Christ-child has no place in his Gospel. You turn to the first Gospel where another surprise awaits you. St. Matthew introduces the story by giving the genealogy of Jesus, the Son of David, the son of Abraham. Royal descent is traced through "Joseph, the husband of Mary, who was the mother of Jesus." You follow with the third Gospel, where the narrative of the birth is related with wealth of incident and heightening of mystery and wonder, after the manner of the Old Testament. An angel messenger brings good tidings of great joy for all the people. The heavenly host in chorus awakes the silence of the night with praises. The Christ is born in Bethlehem, the city of David. With no feeling of incongruity the historian records that Mary "gave birth to her first-born son and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn," perhaps the greatest surprise of all.

When Christ came to Bethlehem the unexpected happened. "His own people gave Him no welcome." No relatives in Bethlehem opened their home to receive Him. The public caravanserai was crowded! He was born homeless and a manger was His cradle!

It was to Bethlehem, the City of David, to which the Jewish nation looked for the coming of the heir to the throne of David, the Kingly-Messiah, and Deliverer, who would revive the ancient glories of the Kingdom of Israel and add divine splendours to the newly-established Kingdom of God.

It is to Nazareth, an obscure Galilean village we look. A place of no fair fame except that it was there that the news of His Coming was first known to Joseph and Mary and it was there the Child grew up to manhood. Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? asked a pious Israelite when he was told that Jesus had been found. "We have found Him Jesus a Man of Nazareth."

It was in Nazareth that the coming of the Babe was awaited. The Gospels with exquisite reserve veil the mystery of His birth. We might expect mystery but the unexpected enters when we remember the home to which the promised child would come.

The Gospels trace the descent of Joseph from David; his royal lineage is given by St. Matthew and St. Luke. But Joseph the son of Jewish Kings lived not in Bethlehem of Judah, the cradle of the royal race, but in Nazareth of Galilee. He belonged not to the ruling class but to the working class. The village carpenter was Joseph betrothed to a village maiden whose home would include the carpenter's shop. The romance of the humble birth of the Kingly-Messiah could never be understood by the Jews. Is not this the carpenter's son? As the Prophet of Nazareth and the carpenter's son, they had no welcome for Him.

Jesus was born in Bethlehem, born away from home. We should not have been surprised had the Evangelists told of leisurely stages Joseph and Mary, and who performed marvels for their comfort on the journey to Bethlehem. The Apocryphal Gospels make picturesque with miraculous incidents the flight of the Holy Family to Egypt!

An Edict of Caesar Augustus requiring the registration of his Jewish subjects for the purpose of taxation sent Joseph and Mary on a forced journey to the town of which Joseph was native in order that he might inscribe his name there when the home at Nazareth and its simple comforts were most needed by Mary.

We read the story, we are touched by the pathos of it; but do we sufficiently appreciate the unexpectedness of it? How strange the link that connected Nazareth to Bethlehem—the Edict of a Roman Emperor!

Jesus was born in Bethlehem. Prophets had announced His Coming and a nation awaited His birth. In the palace Herod the King inquires of High priests and scribes, while in the Holy City wise men from the East ask: Where is the newly-born King of the Jews? Where is the newly-born King?

In Bethlehem of Judah, the City of David, honoured of all cities to be the cradle of the Christ, Bethlehem to which eyes dimmed with longing is turned, Bethlehem to which thoughts of Christendom now turn.

In Bethlehem Mary "gave birth to her first-born son and laid Him in a manger because there was no room for them in the inn."

In the City of David the desire of Nations was born, a stable His birth-place, the oxen's crib His cradle, and shepherds from the fields to welcome Him!

When Jesus came to Bethlehem the unexpected happened! The unexpected news through the story of Jesus, it begins at Bethlehem with the manger, it continues at Nazareth with the carpenter's bench and it ends at Jerusalem with the Cross. "He came to His own and His own people gave Him no welcome." He failed to fulfil their expectations, but on all who have received Him He bestows privileges as unexpected as He Himself was and is.

If Christ came to-day, what would happen? Poets like Lowell and novelists like Guy Thorne in "The Call Me Carpenter," in "The Search," bring the Christ back to the world; the priesthood of to-day acts towards Him as did Caiaphas and his colleagues and rejects Him and the Church thrusts Him forth as did the synagogue of the earlier day. Some might be bold enough to include the Government and expect a repitition of an official condemnation.

Poets, novelists and journalists assume that the expected would happen, but Jesus is ever the unexpected and when He comes—it is the unexpected that happens. If Christ came—He has come—the message of the Christmas-tide. The unexpected happens to-day when He comes to us and we give Him a welcome. When we discover that He lives, that the world is not Christ-less, not even the little world of our lives. The Cross did not close a life uniquely begun in a manger, the cross liberated Jesus gave Him the freedom of the world and of all time.

"Loud mockers in the roaring street
Say Christ is crucified again.
Twice pierced His Gospel-bearing feet,
Twice broken His great heart in vain!
I hear and to myself I smile
For Christ talks with me all the while."

"Ah, never more shall Mary hear
The voice exceeding sweet and low
Within the garden calling clear
The Lord is gone and she must go!

Yet all the while my Lord I meet
In every London lane and street."

He comes to us but the time and manner of His Coming are unexpected. Christian biographies witness to the unexpectedness of His Coming. He comes to us at the season of Advent as a little Child who would lead us into the Kingdom of which He is the King. He comes to us in the way of great humility and we do not recognise Him. He stands outside our pride and ambitions, our love of place and power, and our desires for the passing treasures of the world-holds-out-to-us—He stands outside hearts that are overcrowded and have not even a corner in which He might remain. He comes as the Babe of Bethlehem to teach us that only as we humble ourselves and become as little children can we give Him a true welcome and enter into the family of which He is the first-born son. He comes to us from His Father in all the simplicity of a little Child who is none other than the Son of God—in order that we may learn new values, our own value in the sight of God, and our privileges of sonship. The manner of His Coming corrects our false ideas of true greatness and worth.

Jesus comes to us—as He did to the Jewish nation. What is to be the manner of the reception we give Him? It is that what matters most. The village carpenter and his bride gave Him the earliest welcome. The nation rejected Him and crucified Him. "He came to His own—but His own people had no welcome for Him."

The unexpected happened. The nation which had awaited His Coming failed to recognise Him. The people expected a mighty King and He came as the Son of Man and the Son of God. They looked for a display of royal pomp and power and were unprepared for a revelation of Divine Fatherhood. They yearned for freedom from a hostile power and Jesus proclaimed to them the freedom of the children of God. The common people heard Him gladly, some gave Him a welcome and a few followed Him. Again the unexpected happened. Where He was welcomed and received He revealed His power, and with royal largesse bestowed the most splendid of all privileges. "To those who received Him He gave the power to become the children of God, to those who believed in His name."

Jesus still comes to us at Christmas-tide. His Baby hands knock at hearts overcrowded with other loves. The Christ-child waits to enter and make our hearts His home. He comes to us as to His own and seeks a welcome. Shall we not gladly receive Him? Without Him winter comes but no Christmas.

Blessed Saviour, Christ most holy
In a manger Thou didst rest;
Canst Thou stoop again, yet lower,
And abide within my breast?

Enter then, O Christ most holy;
Make a Christmas in my heart
Make a heaven of my manger
It is heaven where Thou art.

"He came to His own—yet His own did not receive Him, but to all who did receive Him he gave power to become the children of God."

POWERS AND CHINA.

THE PROTOCOL MINISTERS SEND NOTE.

The "Daily Bulletin" publishes the following telegram from Peking under date of December 10:—

The following Note from the Protocol Ministers was sent to the Waichiaopu yesterday.

"The undersigned, representatives at Peking of the United States, Belgium, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the Netherlands, declare, in the names of their Governments, that, taking note of the communication addressed to them on November 21 to the Waichiaopu, announcing the assumption of office by the Provisional Chief Executive, and of the mandates issued by the new Provisional Chief Executive on the same day they will lend their full support to the Provisional Government in Peking under the present Provisional Chief Executive, and that they have entered into de facto relations with same on the understanding that this Provisional Government has been constituted with the concurrence of the nation for the purpose of taking charge of the affairs of the Chinese Republic pending the establishment of a formal Government representing all the provinces and parties in the Republic, and on the understanding that it is the intention of the Provisional Government and any formal Government that may hereafter be established to respect and duly fulfil all treaties, conventions and other engagements entered into by the former Manchu and Republican Governments, and all rights, privileges and immunities enjoyed by foreigners in China by virtue of such international engagements, which, according to international usage, can only be modified by the mutual consent of the contracting parties. They further declare that on the above understanding their Governments are willing and anxious to proceed as soon as is practicable with the carrying out of the measures contemplated by the Washington Treaties and resolutions."

Powers and China. It has been known for a week that the Protocol Powers have been conferring about their attitude towards the Provisional Government, and as is usual in such circumstances, the Chinese Government have been fully aware of what has been going on. Consequently, it is believed that pressure has been brought to bear upon Sun Yat-sen in order to delay his arrival at Peking until the Protocol Powers had defined their attitude. This supposition is supported by the fact that conservative Chinese are uneasy regarding the growing Red activities in the capital, to which Sun Yat-sen's arrival would give a fresh impetus, and there are fears that the Communist demonstration planned in honour of Sun Yat-sen would cause a bad impression abroad.

The Note has aroused much comment, of which the following is a fair summary. The Note should be considered as a declaration against Bolshevism in China, which threatens to resolve itself into a Russo-Japanese duel, and therefore, it is highly satisfactory that these Powers have come into line regarding China's observance of treaties and foreign rights, the repudiation of which forms the basis of Soviet propaganda in China, as well as the keynote of the speeches and declaration of Sun Yat-sen and his disciples. There is no reason whatever to believe that Tuan Chi-jui does not intend to fully give up international obligations, but the Note should help him to suppress senseless agitations more dangerous to China than to the Powers.

With reference to the message from Reuters' correspondent at Kaifeng Hu Chung-yi and Sun Yuch were both sent from Peking

PEKING POLITICS.

POST OF SUPER TUCHUN ABOLISHED.

FENG RESIGNS AGAIN.

(Reuters' Service.)

PEKING, December 11.

Mandates abolish the posts of Inspector General or super tuchuns all over China, which means that henceforth no military Governor controls more than one province.

Mandates commend Chan Tso-lin's action in voluntarily resigning the Inspectorate General, of Manchuria. However, as Mongolia borders Manchuria and the Chinese Eastern Railway runs through Manchuria, the mandate says that Chang Tso-lin must remain supreme in military affairs in Manchuria and appoints Chang Tso-lin, his son and his generals governors of Fengtien, Kirin, and Heilungkiang respectively. These together form Manchuria. Thus Chang Tso-lin still virtually controls Manchuria.

FENG'S RESIGNATION.

Following Chang Tso-lin's resigning the post of Inspector General, Feng Yuh-shiang has followed suit and sent in his resignation for the third time.

It is reported that Feng intends to visit Japan within the month. It is semi-officially stated that the government will offer Feng Yuh-shiang the title of Commissioner to study military affairs abroad.

KAIFENG SITUATION.

A Kaifeng cable to the "Daily Bulletin" dated December 10, reads:—Sun Yuch's forces reached the outskirts of Kaifeng last night, and the Civil Governor's yamen is being prepared as headquarters.

Sun Yuch's senior officer, General He, demanded the withdrawal of Han's troops to Loyang, which Han refused, threatening to attack should Sun Yuch's troops enter Kaifeng.

Han has his troops at Kungmow, Paishan and Chengchow.
